ANNUAL OUTING OF THE K. P. A.

Some of the Things Done and Seen While the Kentucky Editors Were Speeding Across the Country From the Queen City of the Blue Grass to the Capital of Canada.

A Resume of Places Visited by the Doughty Knights and Ladies of the Pen.

One of the Most Eventful and Interesting Trips in the History of the Association.

Lexington was the embodiment of true Kentucky hospitality. It was just what all Kentucky newspaper-makers anticipated, just what they must have expected, and hence the very gracious and cordial entertainment given the Kentucky Press Association at the blue grass metropolis was no surprise. From the time that the reception committee, headed by Chairman J. P. Moore, greeted the arrivals at the railroad station, to the hour when the L. & N. Special train left Lexington for the jaunt through Canada to the Atlantic coast, there was everything done that could be thought of for the pleasure and enlightenment of the Kentucky editors and their ladies. As the writer said several times to Lexington people, "all that could be said of Lexington hospitality is mere repetition, it has all been said and repeated so many times that there is nothing new left to say." Yet as all newspaper makers know that our readers like to read of the things and happenings they know about, so all the members of the Press Association did their best in Lexington and along their jaunt to add something to Lexington's praise, and have since their return home been writing arguments to prove to an already knowing world that Lexington is a Kentucky Paradise.

The business sessions of the association were held in the court house, than which there is none more beautiful nor complete in the entire State.

The headquarters of the association were at the Phoenix hotel where the comfort of the many guests was carefully looked after. The Phoenix is a noted hostelry where hosts of Kentuckians have been fed and watered or wined and dined as their tastes dictated upon occasions of many large political and other conventions and gatherings in the past years. Just now an additional story is being built on top of this hotel, which will be finished up in modern style and convenience. Fortunately no rain fell while the editors were there, and roof or no roof didn't matter, those who chose kept dry.

Mayor H. T. Duncan said the town was ours and open, including electric cars, and those were two days in the lives of newspaper men when everybody had a carriage. The mayor, himself a veteran journalist, gave to the Press Association the heartiest of official welcomes, the promise in which was completely realized at every turn.

From the court house to the Eastern Kentucky Lunatic Asylum the reception committee "put the trolleys" under the association in a swifter and more pleasant journey than is usually accomplished from the one to the other institution. It was into the same ready and hospitable arms of Drs. J. S. Redwine and Louis Mulligan and other officials and attaches of that well governed institution. Pity, akin to the sentiment uppermost in the Press that day—particularly with the newly-arrived and the unmarried—was the only disturbing emotion.

There were no tears, no tearing of hair or raiment or other thing save the shredding of a little oratory after the luncheon. These latter things were said and done in the spacious dance hall of the Administration building. The board was presided over and the honors done by the officials of the institution and members of the reception committee including a general and ready Chairman J. P. Moore, of the L. & N. Railroad. One newspaper celebrity who graced the board was Daisy Fitzhugh Ayres, whose bright special correspondence goes to many leading newspapers of several states. Mrs. Ayres contributed to the papers a very interesting article touching some of the women newspaper workers of the Kentucky press and others identified with the association at the Lexington meeting.

The visits to the State College and the Kentucky University were most interesting but all too brief because of the limited time of the State meeting. The State College is a great institution about which a vast multitude of Kentuckians know very little.

In his department of mines, Mr. Chas. J. Norwood, so well known and kindly remembered by very many of this Bee's readers, presided without care or crutch now, and graciously explained many interesting things to inquirers during their brief call. Earlington was represented in the exhibits and the large photographs there shown, so that any citizen from this thrifty city could recognize some things. Just on the outside of the main entrance, too, stood the main house and mine ventilating fan recently built by the Department by Col. W. A. Toombs, the skilled mechanic of Earlington and former humorous local contributor to The Bee. This complete model will be given a place of prominence in the mining exhibit of the St. Louis World's Fair.

In the electric building there were some very strange things shown which could excite only curiosity and wonder in the untutored minds of the members of the newspaper fraternity. But just after come the passing refreshments. They were on earth again and ceased to bother both to Marconi, Tesla and the rest.

At Kentucky University President A. B. Jenkins talked to the Association and incidentally performed the Shakespearean steel-hook grappling act upon additional members, without, it is hoped, any peril to his own soul.

All good cheer and cordiality was crowded into the receptions accorded at the Leader, the Democrat and Herald offices in the order mentioned. At the model and modern new plant of the Leader Mr. Sam J. Roberts and wife gave hearty greeting most graciously, accompanied with choice refreshments. Lonely Editor W. P. Walton offered hearty hospitality at the Democrat office. The cozy parlor editorial rooms and offices of the Herald building were presided over by Mr. and Mrs. Desha Breckinridge. Here were beautiful flowers for the ladies and courtly treatment for everybody, served up with refreshments and cigars.

Then there stood the brewery, but The Bee doesn't drink beer.

THE BATTLE CREEK SANITARIUM

is one of the show places of the "Queen City of Michigan" and is always the first thing pointed out to visitors as proof that the city has other than a manufacturing side. The main building is 530' feet in length, over a tenth of a mile, but it is three stories placed end by side with the main building the largest and tallest would be 100 feet. It cost $1,000,000 million dollars and can accommodate over 1,000 guests. There are seven acres of floor space in the main buildings, five of which are of marble mosaic. The dining-room has an area of one-fourth of an acre. The place is much frequented by Southern people who come to Battle Creek as to a summer resort and find it most beneficial to their health to stop a few weeks at the big sanitarium.

The Battle Creek Sanitarium is incorporated under the same laws of the state of Michigan as are hospitals and other charitable institutions. No profits are paid the managers of the institution. As soon as the immense new building is paid off for all moneys received beyond the running expenses are, by the rules of the incorporation, to be turned over to charitable objects.

The Fair.

Another "Great Hopkins County Fair" has come and gone and brought in its train as usual a number of sports, the wild west and other carnival shows, to say nothing of immense crowds to whom this sort of thing is never old.

There were a number of interesting things. The educated horse especially deserves a write-up. He was not only a beautiful animal but by far the most intelligent we have ever seen, obeying even the slightest word or gesture from his master, changing his step and time to suit the music, besides doing a number of other bright and interesting things.

The State College athletic team, and Paul Maze, the strong man, were two other attractions much enjoyed.

The people of our county seem to appreciate the efforts of the fair association to give them a good time, and to take advantage of their opportunities.

A New Cigarette Cure.

Providence has discovered a new cure for the cigarette habit. Odie Bass was a user of cigarettes, but since he got that blow on the head with a base ball bat and had a portion of his skull removed he has not been able to smoke a cigarette. If everything else falls try the club cure—Enterprise.

Saints-Dumont's new air ship is a wonder. It sails in the air.

Mr. Beard's Recital.

One of the most delightful of the social features of fair week in Madisonville was the recital given by Mr. Beard at Morton's Theatre Thursday evening.

The crowd was not great but rather appreciative. There was perfect order; there was generous applause, and deservedly so. Mr. Beard's voice is a baritone of great beauty and volume and seemed especially adapted to each number. The numbers were both classical and simple and displayed charmingly Mr. Beard's ability to adapt his voice to both classes of music.

Miss Mary Rash was accompanist and did her part well. She also rendered a delightful instrumental solo.

It is not often we have such a musical treat and many of us appreciate it.

Tragedy.

A Nodaway county, Missouri, editor says the following poem describes a little tragedy he knows of and also goes to show that there is nothing new under the sun:

They were swinging in the hammock
Just beyond the garden walk.
While he told the same old story,
With the same old hot-air talk.

As he leaned for kisses promised,
Broke in two that hamfink trout.
And he used the same old curse words
That have been in vogue so long.

Pope Leo on Capital and Labor.

LET us catch these golden words from lips just closed, of one whom the whole world honored while living and mourns when dead. Pope Leo XIII, the great, in his encyclical letter, Rerum Novarum, May 15, 1891, on the condition of the working classes, says: "The great mistake made in regard to the matter now under consideration is to take up with the notion that class is naturally hostile to class, and that the wealthy and the workingmen are intended by nature to live in mutual conflict. So irrational and so false is this view, the direct contrary is the truth. Just as the symmetry of the human frame is the resultant of the disposition of the bodily members, so in a state is it ordained by nature that these two classes should dwell in harmony and agreement and should, as it were, groove into one another, so as to maintain the balance of the body politic. Each needs the other; capital cannot do without labor, nor labor without capital."

If all the owners of capital and all the owners of labor would pay heed to the simple and beautiful lessons of justice taught in the encyclical from which the above is quoted, there would be no labor troubles, for the occasion from which they arise would cease to exist.

AGED PARENTS

Not Permitted to Visit Their Daughter Linton, Ind. Run Out of Town by Mob of Union Miners.

FORMER BARNESLEY MINERS LEAD.

On Saturday, Aug. 1st, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin, an aged couple of this place, left for Linton, Ind., to visit their daughter, Mrs. Dave Vinson. Mr. Franklin is 73 years old and his wife 70. They have been looking forward to this visit for some time with a great many pleasant anticipations, particularly that the right of a parent to visit their children had been restricted in the land where the U. M. W. holds forth. After arriving at Linton and spending one day (Sunday) with their daughter, the old people were notified by one Bill Woodall that they must leave Linton at once as no non-union people would be allowed to stay there. Mr. Franklin made no reply to Woodall, but his wife, who has a temper of her own, asked him why it was two old harmless people could not visit their daughter in peace, for doubtless in all probability they would never see her again on earth. Woodall made some unmanly reply and said: "If you don't get away from here tonight we will take the old man out and give him a whipping." This naturally aroused her just indignation and Mrs. Franklin replied: "Yes, we will go. We are glad to get away from this town of heathens with its mobs of ruffians who offer indignities to an old man 73 years old for no reason whatever." She was employed by the St. Bernard Mining Company and has been working for them 21 years. After Woodall left Dave Vinson secured a team and drove the old people 16 miles in the night through a heavy wind and rain storm to Sullivan in order that they might catch a train for home.

The mob who waited on Mr. and Mrs. Franklin at the home of Dave Vinson was composed of Harlan Rich, Will Smith, Jack Still, Old Man Still, Bill Smith and Bille Williams, formerly of Linton, Ky., and several others whose names are not known. There is no doubt but Mr. Franklin would have been roughly handled and probably lost his life had he not left Linton when he did, as a mob had formed on the street corner, in front of Baumans's store, with clubs and heavy canes and were more or less under the influence of liquor. Policemen arrived just as the mob was starting out and begged the miners not to do any violence. After much persuasion the mob finally agreed to send word to the sheriff with the policeman Atkins. But Vinson's home was made an investigation. When the three men arrived they learned that Mr. and Mrs. Franklin had left for Sullivan through the storm rather than trust to the tender mercies of a union mob. Mr. Vinson says there are some things about the U. M. W. that are new to him as he did not know when he joined that brotherhood-of-man union that a member was not permitted to receive a visit from his father or mother if they happened to live in Hopkins county, Ky.

Mr. Franklin was not the first Hopkins county man to be run out of Linton. No longer than July 3rd Mr. Flake, of St. Charles, went to Linton on a visit to his daughter and had been there only a short time before he was notified by a friend that he remained until night he would be mobbed. Following is a copy of the note received by Mr. Flake:

Indianapolis, Ind., July 4th, 1903.

It is out here that you are at St. Charles scabbing. You had better not be caught out this evening.

P. S.—You had better not be found here tonight.

It will be seen from the foregoing facts that the union miners of Linton, Ind., have usurped the dictatorial authority of saying who shall not visit their relatives in that union cursed city.

A Few Pleasant Hours.

A small party of young people enjoyed a very delightful evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Chaffee and their daughter, Mrs. Edith Waller, of Hopkinsville.

To this congenial crowd the hours slipped by rapidly for there was fun and music galore, and at 10 o'clock delightful ices were served. Shortly afterward the friends and good

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE.

Little Orphan Annie's come to our house to stay.

An' wash the cans and saucers up,
And brush the crumbs away;

An' shoo the chickens off the porch,

An' dust the hearth, an' sweep,

An' make the fire, an' bake the bread

An' earn her board an' keep.

An' all us other children, when the supper things is done,

We set around the kitchen fire and has the mostest fun

A listenin' to the witch tales at Annie tells about,

An' the gobble-uns 'at gets you

Ef you don't

watch out!

One't they was a little boy wouldn't say his prayers,

An' when he went to bed at night, he up and

His mammy heard him bawl, an' his daddy heard him bawl,

An' when they turmed the kivers down, he wasn't there at all.

An' they seeked him in the rafter room an' cubby hole and press,

An' seeked him up the chimney flue, an' ever'where I guess,

But all they ever found was thist his pants 'roundabout,

An' the gobble-uns 'll git you

Ef you don't

watch out!

An' one time a little girl would always laugh and grin

An' run up ever'one an' all her blood's kin,

An' once when they was company an' old folks was there,

She mocked 'em an' shocked 'em, an' said she didn't care!

An' that is she kicked her heels,

An' turnt to run an' hide.

They was two great big Black Things a standin' by her side,

An' they snatched her through the cellar 'fore she know'd what she's about!

An' the gobble-uns 'll git you

Ef you don't

watch out!

An' little Orphan Annie says, when the blize is blue,

An' the lame ones sputters, an' the deaf ones wo-oo-

An' you hear the cricket quit, an' the moon is gray,

An' the lightnin' bugs in all squeched away.

You had better mind your parents,

An' your teachers fond an' dear,

An' cherish them 't loves you, and dry the orphan's tear,

An' the poor paun' needy ones at clusters all about,

The gobble-uns 'll git you

Ef you don't

watch out!

SHORT LOCALS

Lemonade, 20 cents, girls!

Do you eat steak? Go to Heppel's old stand, the Rock House.

A good rain fell in this vicinity Wednesday which was a great benefit to growing crops.

Who paid for the lemonade that the gentleman so kindly ordered at the Madisonville fair? Don't all answer at once.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Krause on Railroad street Sunday night an 8 pound girl. Mother and child both getting along nicely.

T. J. Trahern, our popular druggist, is suffering from a severe cold. Did you know Dawson water would cure Tommy?

Henry Drexler will sell you fresh meat at the honest price. Hepple's old stand, the Rock House.

We are delighted to announce that Mr. Hatch Whitfield who has been ill for about ten weeks is now improving rapidly.

Euselius Adams, a former employee of the Hustler office, Madisonville, will go to Morganfield to take a position on the Sun.

Mr. Jeff Harlan, of Memphis came for a few days last week to see the fair and shake hands with his numerous friends. We are always glad to see Mr. Harlan.

For the best meat in Earlington call on Henry Drexler in the Rock House. Hepple's old stand.

Several cottages are being erected by the St. Bernard Mining Company on North Main Street and other places.

The members and friends of the Christian church will please take notice that the communion service will be held at 10:30 instead of 10:40 as heretofore.

Dr. Preddy Eagle says he is not himself any more. Preddy Eagle has gone to parts unknown and left Running Wolf in his place. Strange how much they favor each other.

Mr. Charlie Martin of the L. &amp; N. who was ill for several days last week left Sunday for his home in Springfield, Tenn., where he expects to get well again.

Miss H. E. Brooks has been in Sebree this week. She gave two addresses on Sunday, and on Tuesday evening by special request another on Woman's Part in Temperance Work. Good audiences were present at every meeting.

WANTED—Young man 18 to 20 years of age, good manners, smart at figures, for work at Daniel Brothers' business. Address, R. Troendle, Vice President and General Manager, Dawson Springs, Ky.

Violent Attack of Diarrheas Cured by Char-bolin's Colic, Cholera and Diarrheal Remedy and Perapha's Life Saver.

"A short time ago I was taken with a violent attack of diarrhoea and cholera. I was told if I had not gotten relief, I'd die. A friend leading citizen of Patton, Ark., a friend recommended Char-bolin's Colic, Cholera and Diarrheal Remedy. I bought a 25c bottle and after taking three doses of it was entirely cured. I consider it the best medicine in the world for bowel complaints."

For sale by St. Bernard Drugstore, Earlington; Bon T. Robinson, Morton Gap; Jno. X. Taylor, Earling-ton.

Not every man that is a good judge of horse flesh is a good judge of a horse race.

Mr. C. E. Vanderer, of Nortonville, passed through Earlington, Tuesday, on his way to Madisonville, to visit relatives, and subscribed for THE BEE.

LOST—Somewhere between the company store and Henry Bourland's residence, one pair gold rim spectacles. Finder will return to this office and receive suitable reward.

The brick residence now being erected for Hamilton O'Brien, Fawsworth & Root will be one of the most convenient residences in the city and will add greatly to the appearance of that portion of the town.

Mr. P. J. Murphy, of Owensboro, was here Monday, advertising the State Fair to be held at Owensboro, Ky., Sept. 21 to 26. Mr. Murphy is a hustling man and thoroughly understands the art of advertising.

All members of the Epworth League are earnestly requested to bring their Bibles to the devotional service Sunday and officers will please have their reports ready for the business meeting.

There were a number of visitors in Madisonville during the Fair and so the town was unusually gay. There were two swell private dances and a little informal hop. All of which were very charming affairs.

On account of the inability of some of the R. R. men who had subscribed for the Special R. R. edition to get their photo's to us at the proper time, the publication of this edition will be postponed a few days.

The Epworth League will hold a regular business meeting next Sunday evening at seven o'clock and will elect a new president to succeed Miss Leura Stodghill, resigning. All members are requested to be present and bring their bibles.

A slight wreck occurred in the yard near the Main street crossing Sunday evening. Engine 84 got some of her drive wheels off and getting them on again occupied some little time.

What has happened to Earlington's "hog law"? There are several pigs running at large and causing a great deal of trouble in one part of town at least. This should not be. Why will people let their stock run loose when it causes annoyance to their neighbors?

The M. E. Church South of this place anticipate having a picnic for the pleasure of its children both great and small sometime next week. These little outings do please the little people so much even if an effort for the older ones to rough it even for a day.

The Methodist Church South will give a picnic for their Sunday school children exclusively on Friday, Aug. 21, at Lakeside Park. Each family attending is expected to bring a basket containing sufficient food for the members of that family, and only children who have been attending the Sunday school are wanted.

Mr. Geo. E. Gill, the manager of "A Little Bit of Company," after searching through the choirs of the best churches of the country, is greatful himself upon having secured some marvelous voices for his famous Original Newboys Quintette. A Little Outcast will be seen here this coming season.

Earlington people are great home-makers; this however you may observe if you "have half an eye." There are several new houses being constructed just now. This sounds good to all who are interested, happy, and we are thankful to say prosperous enough to be able to beautify our city streets by the erection of attractive new homes.

Sebree Fair.

The work on the field grounds at Sebree is being rapidly pushed by the managers. They will have all work completed in three weeks. The amphitheatre is about completed and a high board fence is being put around the grounds. The race track is already completed and the prospects are that Sebree will have a good fair to begin with.

Suecie Prevented.

The mortifying announcement that a person of substance had been discovered will interest many. A run system or dependency invariably breeds suicidal and sometimes homicidal tendencies which makes suicide likely.

At the first thought of self destruction, take Electric Bitters. It is a great stimulant and strengthens the nerves and build up the system. It's also a great Stomach, Liver, and Kidney regulator. Electric Bitters is guaranteed by St. Bernard Drug Store.

The Christian Church and Its New Pastor.

The Christian Church of this city is a place of much activity and success. Just at this time which is very commendable and a matter of congratulation to its new pastor Rev. W. R. Jinnett, who came here a short time ago from Illinois.

It has been our intention since the arrival of Rev. Jinnett to publish an extended notice of him and his work; but the necessary material nothing at hand, the publication has been somewhat delayed. We are pleased to have such notice herewith.

Rev. W. R. Jinnett is a native of North Carolina, having been born in that state about 1870. He is a graduate of Bethany College, Bethany, W. Va., the oldest college in the brotherhood of his church, and was founded by Alexander Campbell. This college numbers among alumnus some of the most distinguished men of the nation, all the learned professors being ably represented. Among statesmen are found the names of Champ Clark, Mo.; Gov. Oliver P. Morton, Ind.; John C. Newell, Ind.; Thomas W. Phillips, Pa.; W. H. Graham, of Pa.; among preachers the names of C. L. Love, B. A. Jenkins, and J. W. McGarvey, of Ky., and many others whom I do not recall at this time.

While a student in college Mr. Jinnett ranked among the ablest writers and most brilliant orators of the institution. He was during his senior year, Editor in Chief of the college magazine and was chosen at graduation as a member of the National Honor Society.

The same year of his graduation 1894, he was called to the pastorate of the First Christian Church of East St. Louis, where he labored with great success for 5 years. He then became the pastor of two churches at Atlanta, Ill., where he remained for 2 years, since which time he has labored in Central, Ill., lecturing and preaching with marked success.

As a pupil orator and lecturer Rev. Jinnett shows marked ability and is often in demand for special addresses. Some of his fraternal addresses have been widely published by Masonic and Odd Fellow papers, creating favorable comment. He has been invited to deliver an address at the County Teachers Institute in the early part of Sept., and is determined, this week, a course of lectures in Bryant Park, Ind.

The work of Rev. Jinnett starts out with fanfare and we extend congratulations to both the minister and church.

IN THE INTEREST
OF THE

...Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Edited by a White Ribboner.

A very enjoyable meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held with Mrs. Webb on Monday afternoon, Aug. 3. Three new departments of work were assumed and superintendents appointed.

Mrs. Kate Winters was appointed in Flower Mission Work; Mrs. M. H. Ladd, Superintendent of Narcotics and Non-Alcoholic Medication, and Miss H. E. Brooks, Press Superintendent.

The next regular meeting will be held with Mrs. M. B. Long, next Monday, Aug. 17, at 2:30 o'clock. An interesting programme has been prepared for this meeting.

Programme for meeting of W. C. T. U. at Mrs. M. B. Long's next Monday afternoon at half past two o'clock.

"The Patent Medicine Remedy," A selection by Mrs. Mollie McGary. "Temperance Training in the Home," A selection by Mrs. W. L. Gordon, Jr.

"Five Suggestions," A selection by Miss Celene Moore.

All friends of temperance are most cordially invited. As these papers have all been prepared by specialists in these lines of work, it is hoped that much interest may be aroused in these subjects.

That Temperance Camp Meeting.

A rare opportunity not likely to occur every year, for an outing at a trifling expense, is the Temperance Camp Meeting at Sulphur Springs in Ohio county, beginning Saturday, August 15 and lasting nine days.

The Springs are said to be unequalled in their medicinal value. There will be good music through the entire session and three services a day, in the morning, afternoon and evening.

Col. T. B. Demaree, Prohibition candidate for Governor; Mr. O. T. Wallace, candidate for Lieut. Gov.; Mr. R. Sidney Easton, candidate for State Auditor; Miss H. E. Brooks, candidate for State Sup't of Public Instruction; Mr. J. W. Hancock, candidate for Representative from Henderson county; Mrs. Mary E. Balch, State Cor. Secy. of the W. C. T. U., Mrs. Celene Hulles Durbin, so well known throughout the state, and Rev. B. F. Shaffer, Prohibition Evangelist, are among the speakers who have been engaged.

The first three lectures are free. After that an admission fee of ten cents a day will be charged. Tickets for the entire services can be had at half price. If bought in advance. Children under ten years of age admitted free.

Reduced rates of one and one-third fare have been granted on all roads. Buy your ticket at the Narrow on the L. C. thirty-one miles south of Louisville and one mile north of Horse Branch. Sulphur Springs is four miles off the road. Hacks meet all trains. Fare fifty cents for the round trip.

Good board can be had at the hotel for one dollar a day. For rates by the week, write the proprietor, Mr. Webster Cate. Many parties bring tents and camp on the grounds. Tents can be rented from the proprietor at very low rates. Good living accommodations.

For any further information in regard to the grounds, write Mr. Webster Cate, Sulphur Springs, Ohio, Co., Ky. For information concerning the services, write Mr. H. W. Davis, Manager, 207 Trederton St., Owensboro, Ky.

The Early Autumn Fashion.

Perhaps the most important item in the early autumn wardrobe is the top-garment, the coat or jacket. No one type of coat is especially favored. Long and short coats, loose and tight coats are equally popular. There has never been such a variety of materials that can be combined in the same costume as is offered this season. Silk, velvet, cloth and chiffon are associated in nearly every toilette that is intended for dressy wear, while even the gown that is to do duty for walking and ordinary occasions will be distinguished by at least two contrasting materials. There is nothing quite so charming as the gown fashioned from one of the new pavements in gun-metal effect. This rich, shimmering gray velvet with tiny flakes of white over it affords a rich background for exquisite embroidery and lace trimmings. The shirt-waist costume that has been so popular during the summer will come forth with renewed attractiveness in the autumn, and the wardrobe that does not include at least one velvet or velvetine suit, made in this popular style, will be incomplete. There are innumerable pretty materials that will delight the heart of the woman who persistently clings to shirt-waists. The new flannels are wonderfully soft and fine, and come in very pretty colors. The heavy cotton fabrics—madras, cotton cheviot, fleece-backed pique and canvas—will all be worn even during the winter, and they have much to recommend them. Workmanship is more in evidence than ever in the fashionable wardrobe. Every season seems to bring forth some new suggestions for the use of black velvet ribbon, and now we have wonderfully pretty block or strapped work of the ribbon velvet over lace collars and also on skirts and sleeves. Shirring in all forms is remarkably popular this season, and accordion-plaiting continues in favor not only for skirts but for jackets, waists and accessories. High in favor are linen passementeries, pendants and embroideries, and they are used to trim gowns or almost every material, and buttons play a conspicuous part in the trimming of street dresses.—From The Dealer for September.

Takes With Cramps.

Wm. Kirmane, working near Littleport, was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of convulsions. He was so severe that he had to be laid on the floor of the crew to wait upon him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He diagnosed the case as being of the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea. Remedy he thought would help him out and accordingly sent him a bottle of Dr. King's Medicine. The result was that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medical knowledge.

This remedy never fails. It is liberal for St. Bernard Drugstore, Earlinton; Ben T. Robinson, Morton Gap; Jno. X. Taylor, Earlinton.

Larmouth-Berry.

Early yesterday morning Mr. Will Larmouth and Miss Sue D'Berry drove to Nortonville in time to catch No. 63 and went to Springfield, Tenn., where they were quickly married, returning on No. 64 last night. The bride is a young railroad man and the bride a charming young lady. Mr. and Mrs. Larmouth have the best wishes of a large circle of friends in their married life.

MINING NOTES.

A most valuable find of a pure peacock coal has been made on the property of the Nortonville Coal Company. The vein was discovered where it crossed out of the ground about a half mile from the present shaft, and when it was opened was found to be about four feet thick and of the best grade. It takes its name from the many colors to be seen on its surface as the light strikes it at different angles. The owner is much gratified at the find, and the new vein will be worked as soon as possible.

Unionism of the radical variety has been running riot in Colorado and at Idaho Springs recently culminated in the destruction of the transformer house of the Sun and Moon mine, which operates with non-union men. One of the workers, a member of the miners' union, was killed. Two members of the miners, including its President, were arrested and were later drummed out of the city by citizens who ordered them never to return. The Sun and Moon was first affected by the miners' strike last February and last month began operations with non-union men. The Western Federation of Miners is a strong and a violent organization, with many outrages notched upon its record, but it does not control the mining situation in Colorado. Since the Idaho Springs outrage and the subsequent ejection of the unionists who participated, a meeting of citizens of Denver has been held at which resolutions were adopted endorsing the action of Idaho Springs citizens who drove out the rioters.

Read the story of the Franklins and Flake on the first page of THE BEE, and note the kind of union U. M. W. of Linton, Ind., live under. Evidently the citizens of Linton endorse the action of the miners that threatened these old people, for no protest has been heard from the unionists that Campbell, Parcell, Wells, Hicks, Wood & Co. would fire on the free miners of Hicks Co., if they could. Secretary-Treasurer Geo. Baker, of District 23, U. M. W. of A., makes his report for the three months of April, May and June, 1903.

He reports paying—

Officers, Salaries and Expenses . . . . . $2,071.48

Lawyers . . . . . 2,583.50

Court Costs . . . . . 876.00

Auditing Campbell & Books . . . . . 88.50

Ad . . . . . 118.00

Total . . . . . 45,789.64

This report shows that out of every 100 cents expended—

Ad gets . . . . . 2c

Officers get . . . . . 3c

Lawyers and Courts . . . . . 60c

Auditing Campbell . . . . . 1½c

This is a remarkable showing indeed for a benevolent organization.

Instead of organizing for "better conditions of employment" it would seem that District 23 is organized for the benefit of its officials and lawyers.

Frost, Chas. Wells received in the three months . . . . . $458.24

Or $152.75 per month.

Or Frost, W. E. Hicks got . . . . . 392.00

Or $108.00 per month.

The ad was as follows:

Angeline Bailey . . . . . 40.50

Mrs. Bertha Broomfield . . . . . 20.00

Mrs. Taylor . . . . . 7.00

Charles Plackman for burial outfit of Eli Givens . . . . . 47.50

Ex-Treasurer Campbell is not reported by the new Treasurer Baker as turning over any funds. If the Auditing Committee which cost $88.50 had discovered what Campbell and Wood had done with the $265,000 received by them since April 1, 1900, it might have been stopped.

The National Board is even more liberal than District 23. G. W. Purcell drew from the National Treasury in 1902, $2,298.85, as reported by National Secretary-Treasurer Wilson.

What a "graft" these official brothers of the U. M. W. have, and how they do live on the fat of the land!

COUNTRY EDITOR.

An Eloquent Encouragement to the Rural Press by the Editor of a City Daily.

WHAT HE THINKS OF

THE WEEKLY PAPER.

The editor of Atlanta News, in contributing his regular Saturday evening column to that paper recently paid the following glowing tribute to the country newspapers:

Sitting here with the debris of weekly toll about us—scattered clippings, crumpled copy and a pair of yawning shears piled high above a mass of Georgia papers—the pen of Saturday Evening is filled with a sentiment of tenderness for the Country Newspapers.

How quiet, and yet how potentially a work they do in the realm of newspaperdom, and how thankless oftentimes are their labors!

Quiet, unhonored, sometimes despatched obscurely, many times engaged in a hand to hand combat with dire poverty, and the chances ten to one against them, it is just simply superb to see them come up to the scratch of each succeeding issue dauntless, cheery, insouciant, Micawber-like, like before.

We have often thought that nothing but the strange fascination of seeing one's thoughts on paper, on fair black and white, could ever explain the sublime pertinacity with which some editors stick to their thankless calling, but we do honestly believe now that there are many of them who appreciate the deep importance and responsibility of their rank and stick to it for "the love of the thing," and where such a one does exist, true to the instincts of his craft in its highest plane, imbued with the desire to elevate, enlighten, instruct, defend and represent the people of whom he is the political organic center, holding his honor dear and the honor and good name of his people precious, pandering to no false sensations and poisonous sweets of scandal, that would please but debase, keeping a white example of political faith, and public morality and political honor in the organ through which he speaks the sentiment of his fellow-citizens—when such a one can be found we doff our hats in professional respect to the most valuable and estimable citizen of the Republic.

The importance of the country newspaper is rarely considered. It is, to the body journalistic, what agriculture is to the politic—the bone and sinew of it all—the feeder of the big metropolitan journals whose thunderous roar is but the concrete sound of the busy voices of the rural press.

The country papers are the thousand small streams that flow into the mainstrem of the metropolis, the various couriers which go swift-winged with their tidings to the great herald arteries that throb out our states to the world.

And again, we say that the editor who, in the full light of his realized responsibility, fulfills to the extent of the man that is in him the high, grueling duties of his station, is a citizen who ought to wear the laurel.

Brave little sheet that it is, wrapping in its history a thousand heartaches and cramped ambitions, of bitter sacrifices heroically made, without a blot upon its record of faith and purity, and not a foul, scandalous line to mar the symmetry of its truth and constancy.

In the fellowship of journalism it is the quite, golden-hearted gentleman, stainless and pure as the white soul of him who guides its cruise over the deeps and shallows of this stormy age of journalism.

From the city to the country, from the throb of the pavement to the waving fields, we send today the highest greetings of the craft who wield the pen.

Throat Cut at Uniontown.

What appears to have been an unprovoked and malicious act occurred in this city Saturday afternoon says, the Uniontown Telegram. A young man by the name of Richy, because he asked Raymond Freaney, colored, to move so that he may pass along through a narrow passage way, received a long gash in the neck from a knife in the hands of Freaney. From all information we were able to obtain the act was entirely unprovoked. Richy simply asked the negro to allow him to pass and Freaney, without a word, drew a knife and slashed at his neck, inflicting a long wound, which, if but a little deeper, would have proven fatal. Richy after being cut drew his own knife and struck at Freaney but does not know whether he cut him or not. The affair occurred in an out of the way place and Freaney made his escape and has not yet been apprehended. The act was witnessed by a crowd of negroes, but they of course knew nothing of it for a few minutes after it had happened.

Richy came from a gasoline boat, which was lying near the city, and although a stranger here created a very good impression. Several negroes were arrested on suspicion but it was clearly shown that Freaney was the guilty one.

DELAYED EDITORIAL.

The following editorial mailed from Denver, Colo., reached THE BEE too late for proper position:

On account of family illness and other conspiring circumstances the editor has been absent and unable until this week to publish his story of the magnificent trip arranged by Secretary Morningstar and enjoyed by so large a portion of the Kentucky Press Association. The story appears on the first page of this issue. The Association under the administration of retiring President Thos. G. Watkins, of the Courier-Journal, has had a profitable and progressive year and is in better shape than ever before. The recent state meeting at Lexington was one of the best ever held and the trip through Canada to the Atlantic coast was a notable one. The business of the Association under the newly elected president is in the hands of a strong Executive Committee, selected from among the most experienced and earnest newspaper workers in the State. There are matters of importance to the press of Kentucky now under consideration, which this and subordinate committees will work out during the present year. All newspapers in the State, not now affiliated with the organization, are asked and will be urged to join in movements along business lines for mutual benefit.

Daisy Turned Over.

While a crowd of Earlinton people were on the high road to Pappy Beach Whitfield's one sight, the driver turned the Daisy over and threw the occupants out in the mud.

After they had clawed the mud from their eyes they discovered that their horses had got stuck in the mud but were getting out.

Rumor says there will be two more weddings in our town in the near future. The signs are good as we can see. But the bride is a wonderful little God-love does swoop down on our town sometimes, and my! what havoc he does play while he tarries.

The Devil Peasay.

A little thing sometimes results in death. Thus a mere scratch, insignificant cut or prick may prove deadly.

CIRCUS TRAINS IN COLLISION

The First Section of Wallace's Circus Train Rear-Ended By the Second at Durand, Mich.

TWENTY-THREE MEN KILLED AND A NUMBER INJURED.

The Air Brakes of the second Section Refused to Work and It Ran Almost at Full Speed Into the Rear of the First, Which Was at a Standstill.

Durand, Mich., Aug. 8.—The death list, as a result of the collision early Friday in the Grand Trunk yards between the two sections of Wallace Brothers' circus train, stands at 23, seven of whom are in the morgue unidentified. Coroner Farmer impelled a jury, which viewed the remains and adjourned until August 14, when the inquest will be held. Following are the dead and injured:

List of the Dead.

James McCarthy, trainmaster of the Grand Trunk road. His division embarking Port Huron and Battle Creek.

A. W. Purcell, special officer of the Grand Trunk, Battle Creek.

John Purcell, Ferndale, Ind.; boss canvassman.

Asa Larson, Cambridge, O.; driver.

G. Thomas, residence unknown; laborer.

Harry St. Clair, residence unknown; ticket seller.

John Leary, Springfield, Ill.; boss of ring stock.

Andrew Howland, New York state; cook.

Frank Thorp, Dundee, Mich.; trainmaster of circus train.

Robert Rice, residence unknown; laborer.

Charles Sando, Peru, Ind.; driver.

Joe Wilson, Pittsburg, O.; canvasman.

Jame Taffelmeir, Orient, Ia.

Unknown man; driver.

Unknown man, home sold to be in Indianapolis; rider in circus races.

Unknown man, home sold to be in Louisville.

Unknown man, driver.

Unknown man, suffocated to death.

Two identified men at the hospital, Edward York, Terre Haute, Ind.

The seriously injured:

James Foley, special officer of the Grand Trunk, Detroit; badly bruised and body broken about body.

Joe L. Benton, New Milford, Conn.; internal injuries.

W. H. Roe, Armstrong, Ill.; internal injuries.

Frank Tilley, Rising Sun, Ind.; hip dislocated; bad bruised and internal injuries.

Belle Abrams, Sandusky, O.

Burt McGrath, Cannonsville, O.

John W. Koona, Bairdstown, Ia.

George Barley, Los Angeles, Cal.

W. J. Conk, Dubuque, Ia.

Joseph Patterson, Grand Prairie, Ill.

John Collins, Des Moines, Ia.

J. R. Smith, Denver, Col.

Edward York died at noon at the temporary hospital.

Near Terre Haute.

The dead and injured were terribly mangled that identification seemed well-nigh impossible, were laid on the ground a short distance from the scene. About 150 persons, mostly plainclothes, were operating on the injured and dressing their wounds in the temporary hospital. Four of the injured died before 8:30 o'clock. When the wrecking train crews had finished pulling up the cars the trains had been laid out. 17 dead men were lying on the grass awaiting removal to the morgue. A majority of them were killed while asleep. The circus performers were on the rear of the moving train and escaped injury. Wallace Brothers' circus train was very heavy, but have given no estimate of it as yet. This is the second wreck that the Wallace shows have suffered within a month.

In discussing the question of responsibility, the railroad and the railroad officials unhesitatingly lay it to Emile Probst, the second section of the train, whose home is in Battle Creek. Probst says that the air brake on his train refused to work, but the official version is that he could have stopped the train in time to have avoided serious consequences. General Manager F. H. McGuigan said:

"Probst knew that he was coming in to a yard where trains usually stand and take on coal and water. The rules say that the engineer must stop his approach such yards with the train under control. A brakeman sent back by the first train warned him of the danger three-fourths of a mile before he got to the standstill point. For nearly half an hour before he got to the yard the track is straight and clear and he should have been able to see the red light on the back of the train ahead in time to stop his train. Of course he like anyone else, will try to avoid such a dreadful responsibility."

The President Can't Attend.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 8.—A telegram has been received by Secretary Richardson of the Frontier association from Secretary Loeb, stating that President Roosevelt would be unable to accept the invitation to attend the Frontier day celebration in August.

Declares a Failure.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—The co-operative laundry, which was established by union laundry workers during the big strike in Chicago's wash houses, last June, has been declared a failure.

What Would You Do
If on some roasting summer day,
When you're not enough to cook,
Some fellow'd come up an' say,
"You're not so warm as you look!"

Thomas F. Griffith, an apprentice in the Howell machine shop, mashed a finger Friday while taking a liner out of an engine.

When engine 644 was put on train 2d 74, out of Earlinton, on the 9th, something gave way suddenly, disabling the engine and causing a delay of one hour to the train getting another engine.

B. D. Lockwood, chief draftsman, and E. H. Hedgecock, chief clerk to the superintendent of machinery, of Louisville, paid a visit to Howell shops a visit Sunday. Their next destination was Nashville, Tenn.

A. B. Scott, of Pembridge, who recently procured a position at the Earlinton shops as car repairer, has moved his family to Earlinton. Engineers James McGrath and two sisters are visiting in Texarkana.

Enginner J. W. Rowes, son of Howell, have gone to Denver, Colo., to bring back Mrs. Rowes, who has been spending a few months with her parents in that place.

Engine 890, which was sent to Howell shops from the South for a general overhauling, was turned out Thursday in fine shape. After making a trial trip she was sent to Superintendent Snyder for service on the First and Second Division of the Main Stem.

The St. Louis Division has been experiencing considerable trouble lately with engines foaming, which seems to be in evidence every year at this season. The trouble is caused by the Queenlake water.

J. L. Ritchie, who for some time has been connected with the Southern Ry., at Princeton, Ind., as night round house foreman, has been given a position as machinist with the L. & N. at Earlinton, where he intends to move his family in the near future.

Engineer W. T. Porter is stationed at Bakers hill during the absence of Engineer G. M. Willis, who is off on a furlough.

Some of the boys say that running a train is not all that Conductor B. H. Hackney knows how to do. He is also good at milking cows.

Fireman George Meyer took suddenly sick on the 8th while firing one of the 900's on S. D., having to be relieved at Mt. Vernon, Ill. The same thing occurred to Fireman J. B. Caraway.

Clinton Hurd, son of Col. Leo Clinton, after ticket and messenger agent of the L. & N. at Evansville, Ind., has been promoted from night agent of the union station at Memphis, Tenn., to day assistant ticket agent. Clinton was for the last three years night ticket agent at the Evansville depot, and went to Memphis about six months ago. He also previous to this was employed as assistant clerk in the Howell store room. His promotion to day assistant at a nice increase in salary speaks well of his abilities and the high esteem in which he is held by his employers and his many friends, who hope this promotion may lead to something still better.

J. D. Mitchell, who resigned some time ago as brakeman on the Henderson division to accept a position with the I. C. R. R., has returned to Earlinton with a view of again entering the service as brakeman with the L. & N. All that is necessary for a man to be convinced that there is no road like the old reliable L. & N. is for him to try a while "some of its contemporaries."

John Donavan, son of Patrick Donavan, section foreman at Guthrie, has secured a position in the Howell blacksmith shop as bolt cutter.

The class of firemen Mr. Walsh is preparing to promote to engineers consists of W. H. Luton, J. M. Green and F. M. Hampton, through freight firemen; C. S. Strange, now boasting at Earlinton; L. C. Smith, traveling fireman on both divisions, and Emil Spiels and Arthur Bonham.

WOMEN'S WORK

To Be Exhibited at the State Fair in Owendooro.

Prizes Amounting to $750 Are Offered and There Will Be Some Fine Displays.

True to the reputation which Kentuckians have long since established for gallantry towards their "women folks," the Executive Committee of the State Fair has a certainly dealt most generously with them in awarding the premium list in the Women's Department.

Not only are the premiums the largest offered by any State in the Union, ($750 having been allotted to this one department, but so wide in their scope and so broad their purpose to reach every class, that one may be well repaid by a careful study of the lists.

The practicable, sensible women of our rural or mountain sections, from whose sturdy looms come the beautiful woven counterpanes and artistic rag carpets whose merits are being more and more appreciated; the deft fingered art workers of our cities, with their filmy laces and exquisite embroideries, are all remembered. In whatever direction one's talent may lie, she will find in this catalogue an incentive to exhibit her best work.

Not alone in needle work, either; for that road which is said to lead most directly to a man's heart, the culinary highway is quite as generously provided for. Bread, cake, preserves, jellies, pickles, all are there, with abundant scope for the display of one's skill in many directions.

Another striking feature to which attention should be called, is the Sweepstakes premium offered as an inducement to exhibit as many different articles in each class as one may be able. To the one who receives the largest number of premiums in any class, special premiums of $10 is awarded, making it worth ones while to enter as great a variety as possible.

Nor are the children forgotten, for there is a special list for them; where they may exhibit their best dressed dolls, their raffia work, scolloping, or any other handicraft in which they may excel.

To any one who may feel interested, the Secretary of the Association, Mr. L. B. Shropshire, Board of Trade Building, Louisville, Ky., will gladly mail catalogues upon application, and it is earnestly hoped that the women of our State may find both pleasure and profit in making their department a success.

Cheers to all.
